

Haunted Hotels for Halloween

Halloween can be a really fun time of year. We can remember what it is like to be a kid again and imagine all those places our mind can wonder.

One idea for Halloween this year is to visit houses or hotels that are actually supposed to be haunted. You can let your mind go and see what happens.

You could either find haunted hotels in your local area or you could stay at haunted hotels on the way to your next assignment. You might want to bring a friend for protection.

I looked up a few websites for you to check into for those of you interested in this haunting idea.

www.allstays.com/special/haunted.htm - this is a good resource to find haunted hotels anywhere in the country.

www.hauntedhouses.com – this website focuses on haunted houses and haunted movies.

www.hauntedaccomodations.com/hauntedusahotels.htm - you will find one haunted hotel per state listed along with the history behind the ghost that haunts the place.

www.angelsghosts.com/haunted\_hotels.html - here you will not only have various listings of haunted hotels, but you will be able to read stories about other people who have gone there and what they experienced.

There is actually a movie called 1408. It stars John Cusack and Samuel L. Jackson. It's Cusack's job to visit haunted hotels and write about them. He is bored with the job until one day he actually finds a haunted hotel. It's sort of a strange movie, but it's worth mentioning here.

Anyway, it could be fun. You might have a night to remember and definitely something to talk about.
