

Traveling While Going to School

Did you ever consider getting more education while traveling? Most of us are still in the mindset that we have to stop traveling in order to advance our education. We have to go to seminars to get our continuing education units. However, with all the online opportunities now, you can do virtually anything online including your education.

Continuing Education Units

Many opportunities exist to get continuing education units (CEU's) online and in magazines, but did you know some of them are free? The free ones are the ones I want to tell you about. If you keep checking in online, you can find enough free CEU's for your next licensing renewal. A few sites you may want to check out are:

<http://medi-smart.com/freeceu.htm>

www.nurseceu.com/free.htm

www.rizvimd.com/nurses.htm

<http://www.rnceus.com/>

Nursing Schools

Many websites now offer entire degree options for nurses online. It may cost a little more, but it is truly fabulous to be able to be mobile and learning at the same time.

<http://cb.adprofile.net/phoenix/4/nursingprograms/4075.html?SID=KE14559056&CID=75851&specialty=5&nopop=1&PublisherID1=4753&KWID=nursing%20education%20online&xid=2809180516>

<http://www.nursing-schools.com/>

<http://dir.yahoo.com/Health/Nursing/Education/>

I recently met a surgical technician who was going to nursing school online. I met him in California. He was on his way to an assignment in Alaska. Meanwhile, he never had to interrupt his nursing education to go. He loved it. It really provided the balance he needed between working, having fun, and going to school. He could fit it all in on his own time.

Who says you can't advance your skills and your education while traveling. Almost anything is possible nowadays. You just have to set your mind to it. Whether you want to get your CEU's or go for a masters in nursing, you can do it while being on the road and having fun.

